Transfer chaos is plotted
by officials?

The school administration may have purposely set out to cause resentment among local teachers by transferring many well-established, long-term instructors while overlooking newcomers and relative newcomers to comply with a federal court order to desegregate Indianapolis schools, it was reported this week by a reliable source close to the administration.

The school administration may have purposely set out to cause resentment among local teachers by transferring many well-established, long-term instructors while overlooking newcomers and relative newcomers to comply with a federal court order to desegregate Indianapolis schools, it was reported this week by a reliable source close to the administration.

The informant, who asked to remain anonymous, said that many of those ordered to transfer had upwards of 15-years service in one particular school, while teachers with less time were not so ordered.

Meanwhile those ordered to transfer were given a reprieve early this week by the Board of School Commissioners.

The board agreed to allow the Indiana Education Association (IEA) to seek the transfers on a voluntary basis.

In the administration's action last week, some white teachers were ordered to report to predominantly Negro schools and Negro educators were selected to teach at predominantly white institutions. There reportedly was resentment from both sides.

In a special meeting of the board last Thursday, representatives of the IEA pleaded their case for almost an hour, stating that the organization could come up with enough volunteers before the Aug. 26 deadline.

Monday has been the day designated for the board to hold a special meeting to hear a report on the IEA's progress.

Paul A. Downing, executive secretary of the IEA, told the board of his group's plans and again reiterated what the IEA had said all week that they do support faculty integration of public schools but disapprove of the methods being used to obtain it.

After a closed-door session which lasted a half hour, board president Marvin B. Lewallen informed the group that the mandatory assignments would be void pending IEA results on volunteers.

Superintendent of Schools George F. Ostheimer told the group that it would have the administration's full co-operation but warned that the job must be completed by Monday.

He said that the volunteers would have to come from "certain" schools and be transferred to schools specified by the court before the administration could approve the plan.

The teachers met in a stormy session last week at Northwest High School last week and aired their protest.

The majority of them rejected the idea of being forced to transfer from one school to another, citing the main reasons as transportation and family problems.

'White people culturally deprived,' Ohio teacher

WILBERFORCE, Ohio - Attending recent and increasing acclaim as a lecturer on Negro history and culture Dr. Paul McStallworth poses a question: "Are middle-class white people culturally deprived?"

Dr. McStallworth, history professor at Central State University takes an affirmative view on the subject or inquiry.

"No person has been exposed to a balanced cultural diet, Dr. McStallworth avers, until that diet has included a balanced offering of historical and current information 'putting into perspective the actual pluses and minuses of all segments in our heterogeneous society.'"

And Prof. McStallworth is not alone in his opinion.

"Within the last 18 months and especially within the last year," the CSU professor said, "I have been called upon repeatedly to lecture on Negro history and to offer suggestions bibliographies and other materials concerning the introducing and teaching of black history in public schools, private schools, and colleges."

The pressure for teaching of Negro history, according to Dr. McStallworth, "arises from the dislocations and disturbances attendant upon the increased urbanization and ghettoization of black people and their demands for dignity and equality."

Negro poet's TV salute is set for Sunday

The late Langston Hughes, commonly referred to as the dean of Negro writers, will be the subject of a memorial tribute on this week's "The Black Experience," broadcast Sunday, 12:30 noon on WTTV Channel 4.

He has been honored by similar salutes in major cities throughout the country since his 1967 death in New York following an operation.

The Indianapolis memorial will feature local performers depicting the black experience through selected works of Mr. Hughes. The writer and co-

Two teen-agers slain in cross-town tragedies

Hatcher: Demos should consider Negro veep

MEMPHIS — Gary Mayor Richard G. Hatcher, speaking at a news conference on his arrival at the 11th annual convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) here last week said Demo rats "ought to give serious consideration to the idea of a black vice president."

"There are many black men around the country who have the qualifications to be president," Hatcher said.

Later Hatcher was the principal speaker at a rally in the church where the Rev. Martin Luther King gave his last speech before he was assassinated.

The Gary mayor declined to list names of black men he thought qualified to be vice president, and emphatically ruled himself out of consideration. He said there are a "substantial number" of men who are qualified.

Hatcher, one of two Negro mayors in the nation's major cities, also said the Republican convention in Miami Beach was a "racist" convention that produced a present ticket that is "extremely conservative."

He said black voters may boycott the November election "if the convention in Chicago is simply a repeat of Miami Beach."

In addition, Hatcher said he would support challenges to alleged discriminatory delegations from Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi, but he added there are certain states in the North where the same discrimination exists.

Before the convention adjourned Friday, black militants accused the SCLC of betraying "our brothers and sisters in the Poor Peoples Campaign."

SCLC officials hastily called in from Washington about 25 tough rangers who patrolled Resurrection City to protect the convention during its final day.

The tense battle of nerves between SCLC staffers and militant members of the invaders was eased by an exchange of conciliatory statements. The convention adjourned in an atmosphere of relative calm.

The invaders, about 50 strong admit they staged a near-riot during a sanitation worker's march led by the late Rev. King here last March.

In a statement circulated at a rally of more than 4,000 persons Friday, the invaders accused SCLC officials of slopping in comfort at a motel and eating steaks "while poor black brothers and sisters were sleeping in the rain and mud at Resurrection City."

Memphis Police Inspector W. O. Crubmy said his department already on alert with all days off canceled during the convention, was watching the confrontation closely.

The "flare-up" began Friday during a "ripe session" held by the Rev. Andrew J. Young, SCLC executive vice president, for several groups at the convention.

The invaders accused Young

Relief director deplures African refugee's plight

DR. CLINTON MARSH

BY ERNEST BOYTON
NEW YORK (AP) — The tragic existence of more than a million African refugees is a problem which has been swept under a rug of international indifference. What little assistance is given comes through Protestant, Roman Catholic and United Nations relief agencies.

Dr. Clinton M. Marsh, a United Presbyterian minister and director of the Ecumenical Program for Emergency Action in Africa in some recent observations attracted wide attention to the refugee problem of all Africa.

Director of the ecumenical program since its inception in 1965, Dr. Marsh noted that his organization is not directly involved in the plight of the besieged eastern region of Nigeria which has succeeded from the federal government and calls itself Biafra.

Disadvantaged students termed products of schools

BLOOMINGTON — Speaking here recently for a three-day conference of Indiana University undergraduates, Freshman Division, Mrs. Osma Spurlock, charged that public schools share the responsibility for producing disadvantaged students.

Mrs. Spurlock, deputy director of the Indiana State Civil Rights Commission, declared: "It is time to look at the procedures and practices in our schools."

She quoted statistics "as a challenge to those who claim disadvantaged students are the product of disadvantaged climates" and as follows:

The average black first grade student is one year behind the average white first grade student.

By the fifth grade, the black student is two years behind the average white fifth grader.

And by the eighth grade, the average black student is three to five years behind the white eighth grader.

"That shows that what is happening in school is a determining factor for disadvantaged students," said Mrs. Spurlock, who spoke to 21 educators from Indiana city schools attending the conference.

"At this point, the schools have a great resistance to the kind of changes really neces-

Dissension mark both GOP, Demo presidential campaigns

CHICAGO (NPD) — Dissension is the keynote of both the Republican and Democratic Presidential campaigns this year.

The Republicans are parading a theme of "unity," but it is largely window-dressing. While Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Spiro Agnew are campaigning on a "law-and-order" platform designed to placate anxious whites, liberal Republicans are saying "No" to the GOP ticket.

One of them, Jackie Robinson has gone over to the Democratic camp in his opposition to Nixon and Agnew. New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, New York City Mayor John Lindsay and Michigan Gov. George Romney are also said to be cool to the GOP presidential contenders.

Among black Republicans, the GOP ticket is a catastrophe. Many are as embarrassed about being Republicans during this election year as they were in 1964, when arch-conservative Barry Goldwater was running for President.

In view of the apathy to Nixon among black voters, the GOP is said to be outlining a strategy to write off the Negro vote and concentrate on the white suburb and rural areas.

And this, the Republicans are seen to be claiming "unity" while promoting defections among blacks and liberals.

The Democrats are in even worse shape. Set to convene here at their national convention, they are divided along racial, ideological and regional lines.

The resulting tension has produced a situation that requires the convention to be held under the tightest security in history.

The International Amphitheatre, where the convention is being held, resembles more of a concentration camp than a political party's convention

1920 I.U. grad establishes school 'race relations' award

BLOOMINGTON — P.J. Hill, veteran New Jersey educator and first Negro graduate to receive Indiana University's Distinguished Alumni Service Medal, has arranged through the University Foundation to establish an annual award to the university's graduating senior judged to have done most to improve race relationships on the campus.

Dr. Herman B. Wells, chancellor of the University and president of the Foundation, in announcing arrangements for the award described it as "a great and significant step in the betterment of campus racial relations."

"For Mr. Hill, one of the university's most loyal and devoted alumni and a leader in improvement of race relations, to establish this fund means much," Dr. Wells said.

"It shows that members of his race are devoted to the goal we all seek to achieve. It is hoped that others interested in bettering relations and among all races will contribute to the Hill Fund."

The fund will be known as the P.J. Hill Sr., and Hilda W. Hill Memorial Fund, Alumni Income from the fund "shall be awarded annually to the student being granted a bachelor's degree who during his or her four years at Indiana University did more to better race relationships on the campus at Bloomington than any other recipient of a bachelor's degree that year."

The selection for the award will be made by the university office of scholarships and financial aids.

Seek to involve parents of poor in school life

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Office of Education set out Saturday to get the parents of educationally disadvantaged children more involved in the schooling of their youngsters.

New criteria for Federal aid under Title I of the 1965 education act are designed to encourage increased community and parental involvement in setting the priority needs of the children, the office said.

Emphasis is placed on the organization of formal advisory committees, which several city school districts have found an effective means for achieving parent involvement.

The Office of Education said financial assistance may be provided to cover baby sitting or transportation expenses and compensation for sitting on boards of commissions or payments may be made to meet other such of poor parents to enable them to participate.

"We hear continually about the need to develop greater understanding between the home and the school," Harold Howe, U.S. commissioner of education said in a statement. "The attitude of parents toward education clearly has much to do with the academic success of a majority of our children. But for poor people, lack of opportunity for full cooperation between home and school has increased the educational deficiencies of the deprived child."

Nixon seminar leaves Negro group unhappy

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A Nixon campaign seminar of "black capitalism" ended Saturday with Negro participants openly unhappy because Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Spiro Agnew left partway through the meeting.

"I thought Mr. Agnew was going to stay through the entirety of the meeting," basketball star Wilt Chamberlain said of the GOP vice presidential candidate.

Chamberlain was one of about 25 Negroes from throughout the country who came to San Diego to discuss Republican presidential candidate Nixon's "black capitalism" which involves putting private enterprise to work in black districts.

Nixon aides said the former vice president and Agnew stayed for 40 minutes of the two-hour meeting — as long — they said, as Nixon remains at any

Gov. Agnew asks Negroes to pass on his record

SAN DIEGO, Calif. - Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, GOP nominee for Vice President, speaking here last week asked Negro people to look at his record on civil rights and make their decision on that basis, not from rumor.

Gov. Agnew said he would take his campaign "into the ghettos, listen to what black community leaders have to say" and let them make up their minds about him.

Comm. report on candidates due to be released soon

ATLANTA - The National Committee of Inquiry, which is investigating whether any of the Presidential candidates can provide the massive programs to meet the crises of poverty and racism facing the 25 million black Americans, has privately interviewed both Vice President Humphrey and Senator McCarthy in the last few weeks, it was revealed this week by Congressman John Conyers Jr., temporary committee chairman.

Former Vice President Nixon and other presidential candidates are also to be interviewed.

"The purpose of the National Committee of Inquiry is to analyze the record and rhetoric of each of the candidates will be judged will soon be released to the public. We can no longer be satisfied with pious promises during a campaign and pathetic performance after the election."

Leading figures who are members of the National Committee of Inquiry are Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, Harry Belafonte, Mayor Richard G. Hatcher and Floyd McKissick. The group's total membership is growing rapidly and now comes from 38 states and the District of Columbia. It includes many elected black officials and leaders from civil rights and community groups and the professions.

"The position of the presidential candidates regarding the racism built into the structure of both parties will be a crucial factor in the committee's final report on the candidates," said Conyers.

State and local divisions of the National Committee are now being formed throughout the country.

Indiana members on the committee include Atty. Patrick Chavis and Atty. Charles A. Walton of Indianapolis, and besides Mayor Hatcher, Mrs. Jesse Bell.

U.S. Atty. Gen'l. scores "shoot looters" plaint

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. - "Anyone who thinks bullets are cheaper than adequate number of $10,000-per-year college trained policemen, values life cheaply and misunderstands human nature."

Seemingly, this observation reflects the categorical position of U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark in regards to "loose talk of shooting looters."

Speaking here last week before the National College of State Trial Judges, Mr. Clark declared that such a policy is "likely to cause guerilla warfare" in our cities.

"No civilized nation in history has sanctioned summarily shooting thieves caught in the commission of their crimes. Will America be the first? Nations throughout the world have experienced wild rioting with physical assaults and property crime. None have used shooting as a control device," Mr. Clark asserted.

Strikingly he observed when looters are arrested and convicted they are not shot. Also, he observed, that "person under the influence of alcohol killed 25,000 Americans in automobile accidents in 1967. Fewer than 250 people have died in all riots since 1964. Looters, as such, killed no one. Why not shoot drunken drivers?"

Mr. Clark otherwise sounded a warning: "a reverence for life is the sure way of reducing violent death. There are few acts more likely to cause guerilla warfare in our cities and division and hatred among our people than to encourage police to shoot looters or other person caught committing property crimes. How many dead 12-year-old boys will it take for us to learn this simple lesson?"

Mr. Clark's speech has been contemplated as a direct play to the policy advocated in public statements by Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, GOP vice presidential nominee, He (Mr. Clark) was also singled out for criticism by Richard M. Nixon, GOP presidential nominee in his acceptance speech. Seemingly controversy may figure in the 1968 campaign.

James Brown endorses Humphrey for president

LOS ANGELES, — Singer James Brown, popularly known as "Soul Brother # 1", used Watts as a backdrop in endorsing "all black political candidates" and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Mr. Brown shared the platform with Vice President Humphrey at a brief program in a vacant lot, during the Vice President's visit to the Watts Manufacturing Plant and an anti-poverty project.

Arriving a few minutes after the Vice President, Brown was mobbed by hundreds of fans, young and old. A huge sign behind the platform read: "Watts welcomes Soul Brother James Brown and Hubert Humphrey."

The Vice President interrupted his remarks to introduce Mr. Brown. This is what the dynamic "Mr. Soul" had to say:

"So many times, we have elected political candidates who haven't got the right picture. They're not with it. We should know what's going to be done for black people. So, I'm going to start now by making a few overtures to the gentleman standing on my right (Vice President Humphrey) and I'm going to see how he responds to them."

"First, I would like to say that the black man wants ownership. He wants to be able to own his own things and make up his own mind. Number one in the black community, in the low income areas, is the need for better housing...so that we don't have to stay in the dumps, like I lived in when I was a kid."

"Number two is the need for hospitals in the black community...so we don't have to stand around and bleed to death, since the nearest hospital is miles away, downtown somewhere."

"I mean, this is the way it is. I believe in telling it like it is. I don't know any better words. I'm going to tell it just like I feel."

"Number three is the need for our own banks...so we can get some money and do things for ourselves. If we have our own banks, we don't have to go downtown."

"Number four, is the need for hotels...so that when our friends come to see us, they can visit us in the black community and not go downtown and stay in the white community. We want to have good things where we can enjoy them."

"Now the candidate that can give me this kind of thing—that's the man I endorse. I don't endorse the party. I endorse the man," Brown said.

In his response to Brown, Vice President Humphrey said, "What Mr. Brown has said so eloquently is what I stand for and is what I have tried to say to you

McCarthy cabinet would include two Negroes

If elected President, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy plans to appoint Negroes to at least two high posts in his administration.

This came to light during a press conference last week in New York during which he rattled off possible cabinet appointments before he arrived.

"If America can fight for the self-determination of a people eight thousand miles away, we also should be willing to commit ourselves and work for self-determination and full participation in the American black community."

Brown returned to the microphone and said: "If a man feels like that," in referring to the Vice President, "then he's my man. I've got to go along with him. I endorse him. I endorse him because I want all of you, my black brothers and sisters, to have the best."

"One other thing," Brown said, "I endorse all the black candidates regardless of their party. I want to vote for them. I want to endorse them, because we need black people in the power structure to speak for us," Brown said.

Vows to be made by local brother

Brother Roy Edward Smith of Indianapolis was among 13 Brothers of Holy Cross scheduled to make final profession vows Friday, Aug. 16, in the Chapel of St. Joseph at Notre Dame.

Rev. Paul C. Bailey, Holy Cross Junior College chaplain, was to be celebrant at a celebrated mass and receive the religious vows. Rev. James Schultz, professor of philosophy at the University of Portland, Ore., was scheduled ceremony speaker.

Brother Smith, 206 W. 25th, is a graduate of Cathedral High School and St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas. He was a member of the all city and all state football teams here in 1961 and was cited by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce for his outstanding performance. "If J/Wax Kit doesn't give you a shine as good as any paste wax and a lot easier, I'll turn in my trophies."

Stirling Moss

There's nothing ordinary about Kit. This is the paste wax that's pre-softened—so it doesn't take a lot of muscle to put it on. Kit liquefies as it hits your car's surface, practically slides on. And does a deep, thorough cleaning job as it waxes.

You can forget the old hard buffing routine, too. Just let Kit dry to a haze, then easily buff it off. You get a shine that's deep and lustrous, and hard as nails. Try it. J/Wax Kit. In the yellow tub with high-speed applicator or convenient tin.

Miss Russ, Mr. Johnston say 'I dos' in ceremony

In the picturesque setting of the Witherpoon United Presbyterian Church, Miss Judith Deane Russ became the bride of Ronald Matthew Johnston on Saturday evening, Aug. 17, at 6:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. White of 240 W. 43rd. The groom is the son of Mrs. Charlotte Johnston of 14 Harrison Village, McKeesport, Pa., and the late John Johnston.

The lovely double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Landrum Shields, Witherpoon pastor, in a setting enhanced by bouquets of white gladioli, and white and pink carnations entwined with greenery.

Michelle Johnson presided at the organ. Given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. White, the bride was radiant in a short white organza gown featuring long sleeves with ruffled cuffs and neck. Her attire was accented by a short tulle veil and she carried a nosegay bouquet of white and pink rosebuds.

Miss Jacqueline Ann Ferguson, the maid of honor, wore soft blue crepe with a pink satin belt and bow. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds intermingled with blue ribbon. James Smith of Pittsburgh, Pa., was Mr. Johnston's best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. A lovely three-tiered wedding cake accented by rosebuds stood atop the table covered with white linen. Complimenting the table decorations were silver candelabras holding white candles. Guests enjoyed punch and assorted mints. The White residence was adorned by white gladioli and pink and white carnations.

Hostesses for the reception were the 1965 debutantes and friends including Carole Ervin, Zenobia Middleton, Alice Payne, Michele Johnson, organist; Jacqueline Ferguson, maid of honor; Nadine Simpson, Loyetta Lumsey, and Rosanne Green. Joyce Yarbrough was out of the city and was unable to attend.

Out of town guests include Mrs. J. Johnston, mother of the groom and Miss Deloris Matthews, both from McKeesport, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Webster from Detroit, Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant, Mrs. Emily Wynn, and W. Wilbanks, all of Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Johnston will complete his senior year at the University of Pittsburgh. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity. The bride and groom attended Knoxville College.

Mrs. Johnston and Miss Ferguson made their debut Dec. 29, 1965, and were presented by their parents.

Prior to Mrs. Johnston's marriage, she was honored at several teas given by Miss Ferguson and Miss Ervin.

ONE OF THE prettiest summer brides was Miss Judith Deane Russ who became the bride of Ronald Matthew Johnston on Saturday, Aug. 17, at Witherpoon United Presbyterian Church. The couple is shown cutting a three-tiered wedding cake.

Local couple kept busy by activities

BY J. WALLACE HALL

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Although Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Hall were reluctant about travelling this summer, the "travel disease" got the best of them and they were kind enough to share some of their South American trip with Recorder readers. They have travelled abroad for the last 10 years. The Halls have returned to Indianapolis.)

On Friday, July 5, we left Indianapolis on the "Spirit of St. Louis" headed for New York. On arrival Saturday morning we took a taxi directly to the pier to board the "S.S. Santa Mercedes" bound for South America.

Once aboard and our luggage safely in our state room, we went out on deck for the usual "bon voyage" and the playing of "Anchors Away" all of which never ceases to give one a thrill seeing the tearful farewells from the pier below. And what a thrill, as we sail down and out of harbor passing under the many bridges that connect New York with New Jersey shores, we marvel at such achievements. Before long we were out on the calm open sea and on our way.

The following description gives you an idea of the enjoyable planned program and activities aboard a ship. The all-day schedule included coffee served in the Club Andes for early risers who like to get out on deck and enjoy the invigorating fresh salt air, Holy Mass in Club Bolivar, breakfast and an assembly of all passengers in Club Andes for instructions for fire and life boat drill - a Marine requirement.

After the first call for lunch is issued the schedule resumes as follows: Informal bridge games, tea on the verandah, Captain Kagan and his staff give a formal cocktail "Get Together Party" in Club Andes, formal dinner in the main dining room, and a "Noche Pan-American" festive dance party in Club Andes with international music and a get acquainted party to meet new friends, bingo for all.

The preceding program always gives the passengers a chance to get their "sea legs" so they can begin to relax and forget any problems they may have left behind.

It usually takes about three days at sea to adjust and fully relax in the new environment of being out of communication with the rest of the world, except through the ship's daily bulletin.

For the next three days we will be at sea and it always reminds one as you look out and see nothing but "water, water everywhere but not to drink." We relaxed in a deck chair and enjoyed a favorite book or magazine and before you realize it you are fast asleep only to be awakened with the chimes announcing lunch or dinner.

stand up and be counted. He left food for thought when he said that the poor people marched to Washington, D. C., by bus, mules, cars and foot.

They were down and out going to Washington to put the program over, while many of the rich people were going by trains, planes, jets, and swells cars to put their program over. He climaxed the message by saying: "If you do your part, God will answer your prayers." Just after Mr. Robert's message Charles Ross of Unity responded by saying that "wherever you are, God is there. Think right, Pray right." In the mailbag comes an announcement that Anna D. Grant will wed Alfred E. Zachery, Saturday, August 24, at 7 p.m., in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey, 1633 N. Arsenal.

Mrs. Edye Edmonds of 1101 E. Michigan has returned home from the hospital after a few weeks' stay. Mrs. Edmonds is a member of Good Samaritan Baptist Church and is doing nicely at present.

I was injured after falling while playing with my German Shepherd dog, Bozo. To top it off I had to have him taken to the hospital by Charlie Squires, a neighbor.

Bozo made two trips and they cost me plenty. I am wondering if my husband, Howard Connell overfed him. Bozo had worms aplenty and a fever of 102 plus. He looks like a young puppy and is three and a half years old and is his old self again. Dog owners must see that their rabie shots before they can get dog tags.

I trust by this time Mrs. Charlene Hibbitt, William A. Bailey, Rev. John Mills and several others saw the column last week. They were among those desiring to know when the old scribe was going to get back in the saddle.

I hope the editor will allow the old scribe to continue the list of those sending cards and flowers. Among them were: Frances Boglin, our church clerk; Mattie Fanning, Elizabeth Hyde, Lucille Murphy, Bernice Swiney, Gus Poindexter, Percy Means, Amy McReynolds and Elizabeth Johnson.

Also Ann Kennerly, Lillie Thomas, Maude Gallard, Louvina Stephens, Bettjion Foley, Leroy Marshall, Mercy Greenville, Marguerite Cutler, Cecil Crawford, Dorothy Frederick, Mary E. Sloat, Priscilla Dean Lewis, Mary Kendrick, Haldee Wilson and Willa Taylor.

Others were Ethel Merker, evening at the Drum Beat, a native night club. Among the interesting people they met was Lois Hastie, sister-in-law of the deputy premier.

Mrs. Vernora Ferguson and Mrs. Mamie Gibson have returned to Indianapolis after a trip in the southern part of the United States and Nassau, Bahamas.

The ladies beamed over the tours in Lunn, Ga., and Florida. They were most impressed by the view of Dr. Martin Luther King's grave with its eternal flame. Mrs. Ferguson said it looked like the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The couple stayed overnight in Florida and enjoyed of marvelous tour before boarding the S. S. Bahama and heading for Nassau.

The entire tour was reportedly fantastic. The tours and amusements visited plus the straw markets in Nassau were wonderful, according to the Naptowners.

The Flamingo Show of beautiful pink birds was breathtaking they said. One of the outstanding night clubs visited was Paradise Inn in Nassau.

and heads the Will Jones Elementary School. She supervises laboratory workshop participants for the University of Houston.

Mrs. Grays has held many sorority offices including director of the South Central Region and associate editorship of the Ivy Leaf. She is a representative to the Pan-Hellenic Council, an organization of eight Negro college sororities and fraternities.

Mrs. Grays is a member of the Association for Childhood Educational International, National Education Association, Texas Elementary School Principals Association, NAACP, and National Council of Negro Women.

Others installed Friday include Mrs. Lucille B. Bryant of Los Angeles, first vice president; Mrs. Lauretta Naylor of Chicago, secretary; Mrs. Helen C. Cooper, Evanston, Illinois; treasurer; Mrs. Wilhelmina Drake, New York, financial director; and Mrs. Erma W. Hines, Alexandria, Louisiana, editor of the "Ivy Leaf," the Alpha Kappa Alpha magazine.

Mrs. Ruth H. Harvey Charity of Danville, Virginia was installed as graduate member at large. She is a candidate for Congress from the fifth district of Virginia.

Regional directors installed were: Mrs. Esther Pollard, Washington, D.C., North Atlantic Region; Mrs. Pauline C. Morton, Suffolk, Virginia, Mid-Atlantic Region; Mrs. Margaret B. Roach, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, South Atlantic Region; Mrs. Altha Brown, Wilberforce, Ohio, Great Lakes Region; Mrs. Velma L. Jones, Memphis, Tennessee, South Eastern Region; Ordie A. Roberts, Chicago, Illinois, Central Region; Mrs. Faye B. Bryant, Houston, Texas, South Central Region; Carolyn Banner, Jefferson City, Missouri, Mid-Western Region; Mrs. Laura N. Banks, Tucson, Arizona, Far-Western Region.

Fifteen hundred members of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority began leaving Dallas, after pledging themselves to strengthen the Negro heritage and the Negro family.

The members, all college trained women, and their families, left Dallas more than half a million dollars richer through their spending for food, lodging, entertainment and shopping. Several hundred went to the HemisFair in San Antonio, and others traveled to Mexico.

At its closing sessions, the sorority heard a lecture questioning whether teaching about the Negro's past could be integrated into general history or presented separately. The group also selected officers for the next two years, and named a successor to Dr. Larzette C. Hale as president in 1970, Greater Kansas City (Mo) was chosen as the site of the 44th national meeting.

Meyer Weinberg, coordinator of the Innovation Center at Chicago City College said the ideology of white supremacy had distorted past teaching of American history. This cannot be remedied by merely assigning a quota of black heroes to text books, nor by creating a separate, black history, he said.

Weinberg declared the manner of studying the American past must be rethought to reflect the relationships of blacks and whites in every period. He is a teacher and author, and edits "Integrated Education," a journal which has received a grant from Alpha Kappa Alpha, as well as support from the Ford and Field foundations.

Dr. Hale, who began her second two-year term as president, Saturday, announced a national conference next year, under Alpha Kappa Alpha auspices to study the effect of discrimination and poverty on Negro family life.

Experts in education, sociology, medicine and other fields will seek answers to the problems of instability of the family and low motivation among its members, she said.

Mrs. Mattella Grays, a Houston school principal, was named president elect, and will take office at the end of the 1970 meeting. Other officers were installed immediately.

Pack 450 cub scouts enjoy all-day camp

Cub Scouts of Pack 450 had their first day camp Saturday, July 27, and it was a great success.

The idea was started by den mother of two dens, Mrs. Barbara Smith. She felt that since there are several boys who have not earned their badges or patches this idea would help.

The boys attended an all-day camp in first aid, administration, handicraft and arts. There were several leaders present to teach each class.

Mrs. Smith has decided to have another camp as soon as school begins. If there is any boy who belongs to Pack 450, Northwest District, who would be interested in earning any of his badges or patches, their parents can contact Mrs. Smith at 925-1569.

The cost of the camp is $2 which includes breakfast, and lunch for the boys. The next date will be in September at School 41. Rufus Elam is cubmaster. Mrs. Ester Elam is den leader.

Clark, chairman of the give-away, and Damon Roach, chairman of the adult board. The group's ultimate goal is to acquire property in the neighborhood for a Boy's Club of America. The association has had various activities working with the task forces of School 43, School, 44, and Crispus Attucks High School. (Recorder photo by Marcus Stewart Jr.)

Local pro fighters have bright future

A new professional boxing stable has been formed in Indianapolis and will present a talent-rich show Wednesday, Sept. 11, at the Northside Armory.

Headed by Al (A.C.) Allen, former boxing coach of St. Rita's Boxing Club who has been in the fight game since 1944, the bouts will present the top talent in the state.

The team is headed by big Frank Steele, a 23-year-old 200-pounder from Gary who hasn't been knocked out in more than 75 bouts. Bill Murphy of Gary is Steele's trainer and coach and believes the big boy will have a "very successful" career among the heavyweights.

The number two man on the team is big Willie Crawford, who sparred with Floyd Patterson while the latter was here for the Brian London bout. Crawford, who hails from Indianapolis, fought Tiger Harris of Cincinnati the last time out and defeated him in Louisville in four.

Others on the team are such outstanding boxers as Nate Le-noir, 135-pounder who fought Marcus Anderson before winning three Golden Gloves titles.

Also, Robert Bolden Jr., 140-pounder who fought three national Golden Gloves champs and defeated Anderson here in Indianapolis. He has been boxing 13 years.

Larry Washington is the last of the trio who fought Anderson here in 1966. Allen says Washington looms as one of the team's top prospects.

A.C. Hill, 160 pounder, also fought three national Gloves champions and represented Indiana in the 1964 Olympic Trials in Washington.

Another member of the team is Jimmy Darby, former Gloves champ who, according to Allen, "boxes like Jimmy Ellis and

Pacers announce exhibition games

The Indiana Pacers have announced an eight-game exhibition schedule beginning Oct. 1 with a game against the rival Kentucky Colonels at Southport High School.

The Tuesday night contest will be sponsored by the Southport Chamber of Commerce.

On Friday, Oct. 4, the Pacers will face the Oakland Oaks at New Castle, sponsored by the New Castle J.C.'s, and will face the same Western Division club the following night at Shelbyville.

The Denver Rockets will provide back-to-back games on the 8th and 9th of October. The first contest will be played at Lebanon and the second at Rensselaer.

The Colonels will again provide opposition on Thursday,

Oct. 10, at Orleans. On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13, the Rockets will host the Pacers as they head west for exhibition games at Colorado Springs and Greeley, Colo.

Braves plan 'appreciation' to honor Aaron

ATLANTA — Outfielder Hank Aaron, one of baseball's all-time great sluggers, will be honored by the Atlanta Braves and his fans Friday, Aug. 23, with an "Appreciation Night," for which elaborate plans are being made.

Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta is honorary chairman of the event.

Upsetters, B.&H. All-Stars could clash in Lockefield net tourney

The defending champions of the Lockefield Dustbowl Basketball Tournament, the Upsetters, will be slightly favored to take the 18th annual tourney, but could run into some difficulty (to say the least) with the B & H All-Stars, when action gets underway this weekend.

The Upsetters, coached by Hoyt Diamond, defeated the B & H team last year in a 66-64 thriller and Ralston (Buddy-Q) Evans, coach of the All-Stars, would like nothing better than to avenge that defeat.

The B & H team won the tournament in 1962, '65 and '66. Both clubs are expected to be blessed with talent. Scheduled to return with the Upsetters are such stars as Manny Newsome, Gerry Williams, Bill Brown, Lou Williams and possibly Willie Merriweather.

Although the roster is not complete, B & H is expected to play Dick (Boo) Ellis, Marvin Winkler, Dick Russell and Calvin Sheaffer.

Pairings for the tourney were scheduled later this week and both clubs could wind up in opposite brackets, paving the way for a showdown.

But the Upsetters and B & H are not the only teams in the tourney. The schedule is not complete, but at least four out-of-town teams are expected from Grand Rapids, Mich., Racine, Wis., and Chicago.

Local pro fans will get a good look at two Pacer greats in Freddie Lewis and Jerry Harkness who have been invited to play on the Chicago team. Marshall Turner, former Short-ridge great of '55 and '56, will travel with Grand Rapids.

Another team to watch in the tournament will be the Eastside All-Stars, winners of the Zionsville Basketball Tournament Aug. 11. Jim Price, Tech great, is on the Eastside team.

The A&A All-Star and Fritz's All-Star team rosters are not complete as of this writing. However, Craig Marshall, former Attucks Tiger, will be in the A & A lineup.

Evans, tournament director, said about 14 teams are expected to participate. The first contest will get underway at 4:30 p.m., Friday, Aug. 23. The title is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Individual trophies will be awarded the winners and the runner-up. This year they have pledged to hitters, as well as to the most valuable player. In addition, a sportsmanship award will be made.

A special feature of this year's tourney will be a "bathing beauty contest," according to Evans. Three judges will be selected from the audience.

Thanks to the Volunteer Mothers' Club of Lockefield, fans will have the use of a concession stand for refreshments.

This has been an annual project of the club. Each year, the club, now in its 10th year, makes pledges to help the Lockefield recreation program and other organizations that benefit youth in the community.

hitters, I want to tell you that "slamming" 61 home runs in one season is a very difficult task.

It was my advantage to play on the Brooklyn Dodgers with Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Gil Hodges "bombing" home runs.

I also enjoyed being teammates with Ted Kluszewski, Frank Robinson, Wally Post, Gus Bell, and Ed Bailey and George Crowe as they slugged enough homers in '56 to equal the old major league record of 221.

And I can't forget the awesome thrill of pitching against Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Mickey Mantle, Ernie Banks, Ed Matthews, Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Hank Sauer, etc.

Joe Black on Sports--

A tribute to Roger Maris

It is my belief that many sports fans passed over or paid little attention to the recent announcement that Roger Maris would retire from baseball at the conclusion of the '68 baseball campaign.

Roger Maris was a credit to the game of baseball and his presence will be missed.

No, I am not referring to the timely base hits or well executed defensive plays that he contributes in the success of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Specifically I am referring to his ability to remain a human being and gentleman, despite his successes. Sure, Roger realizes that he and his family owe a debt of gratitude to baseball, but we all must remain cognizant of the fact that Roger Maris' added to the glory and financial successes of baseball.

Black power and voter registration

Leaders and members of several civic groups and major party workers on the precinct and ward levels report more than ordinary activity along the line of voter registration. Seemingly, leaders and members of militant civic groups along with workers of both major parties are trying to rally support for their respective causes or candidates on the community, state and national levels.

Other than a seeming concerted drive of party workers to rally supporters of their respective parties, something in the air it appears, is encouraging many unregistered homemakers to get their names on the voting lists.

Registering is the first step, but it is meaningless unless the individual votes. Because the November election is going to be one of the most important in recent, or many years, all exemplary homemakers should express some manner of preferences at the polls.

Residents of the state who should register include: new citizens, persons who will be age 21, on or before November 5, persons who have not voted in the last two years and those who have moved to a new voting district since the last election.

Big Business sponsors equal job chances

Big business leaders on all fronts and from coast to coast have gone on record, since the eruption of violence in the Watts' area of Los Angeles, in realistic explorations of the causes of anti-social upheavals.

A widely-heralded contributor to a striking program recently initiated, Henry Ford, II, of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, recently declared:

"Our goal is to do all we realistically can to give people who have been held back by prejudice and poverty a chance to earn a decent life."

Seemingly, in recent weeks almost two score industrial and community leaders in the Detroit area have arrayed their ideal and material resources, again to explore realistically and remedially the "Negro problem" which has become suddenly and provocatively a singular problem of the world's most outstanding nation.

On a nation-wide scale, persons of the politico-economic stature of Mr. Ford, Gov. George Romney of Mich. and others in New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and westward to California now conceive of using the same knowledge and energy that has built the nation's economic foundations in rendering better the ideal and material amplitude of the Negro populace.

Mr. Ford as head of the National Alliance of Businessmen and a member of New Detroit and Urban Coalition, has set the pace for the Ford Motor Company and an example for other businessmen. In this connection he observed recently, "We Americans have reached a point in our history where we must at last put up or shut up about equality."

Concluding, we contemplate that some of the people were busy on the national, state or community levels clamoring about equality or a "fair deal" might need "to put up (?)". Otherwise on the community level big business and industry, more and more is becoming involved in programs promising chances for allcomers.

U. S. Court sustains spirit of laws

A U.S. District Court Judge Frederick J. R. Heebe, in Louisiana, in a recent ruling enjoined further discrimination against Negro workers, plaintiffs, in a federal suit involving the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers, its Locals 362 and 624 and the local plant (subsidiary) of a widely known paper box manufacturing firm.

The court's ruling banning further discrimination against Negro workers in job progression, in part, said:

"... And in particular the defendants are ordered to abolish forthwith the system presently in force at the box plant, by which employees in a position to compete for promotion to vacant job slots in a particular line of progression are awarded promotions on the basis of 'job seniority,' and any other seniority system designed to discriminate against the Negro employees at the plant, or having the effect of discrimination, insofar as such 'job seniority' or other systems apply to the promotion, demotion or selection for training of Negro employees hired prior to April 7, 1964, in competition with employees of the opposite race."

The Courts ruling followed a suit brought by Robert Hicks, a Negro employee of the paper box plant, charging that the present "job seniority" system discriminates against Negroes in violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The court spelled out that under the new system, total plant seniority alone shall determine who the "senior" bidder or employee is for the purpose of promotion or demotion, in all circumstances in which one or more of the competing employees is a Negro hired prior to April 7, 1964.

Further, qualified employees shall be selected for training on the same basis as promotion, the ruling stated. Again Judge Heebe said that in furtherance of discrimination, Negroes were forced into inferior line of job progression and less desirable jobs.

Strikingly, he added, "job seniority" is not necessitated by safety or efficiency factors, nor for any other reason is it objectively a better or more desirable basis than "plant seniority."

We conclude with the observation that in a U.S. District Court, in Louisiana, Judge J. R. Heebe has set somewhat of a precedent, and one that may react in far flung repercussions. It follows that the spirit and letter of basic law, relating to equal opportunity on all fronts has been sustained. But eventually, such precedents in time may influence leaders and members of unions generally to uphold spirit and action on equal opportunity for all workers.

Congress and the courts

The unseemly wrangle in Congress about Justice Abe Fortas' nomination as Chief Justice is of great concern to black citizens.

The Supreme Court has been the prime agent of change in the past 15 years or so. Starting with the Brown decision in 1954 which ended legal segregation in the schools, and right up to the recent decision which upheld an obscure Reconstruction period law banning housing discrimination, the Court has made many decisions of far-reaching consequences for black citizens, as well as for other minorities.

At times the executive has been preoccupied with other affairs, and at other times the Congress has been unwilling to act. But the High Court has been consistent in its rulings which guaranteed the Constitutional rights and civil liberties of minority groups.

That's why the current opposition to Justice Fortas' nomination is of such concern to the black community. He has been publicly identified with the philosophy of equality which has guided the Court under Chief Justice Warren.

And it is not hard to identify his opponents, with some exceptions, as people who have consistently voted against civil rights.

I know that some critics are sincere in their opposition to the appointment, but the vocal ones I see on television are the same people who fought every civil rights bill tooth and nail.

Only one other appointee to the Court in recent years has been through the same kind of humiliating grilling that some Senators gave Justice Fortas, and that was Thurgood Marshall. There were a lot of fancy reasons given for opposing him at the time, but nobody was fooled - he was a black man and that was enough to drive some racists wild with anger.

That brings us to something which hasn't often been mentioned in the press, Justice Fortas is Jewish, and while discrimination against Jews has become rare these days, the idea of a Jewish Chief Justice gets some people's bigotry up. What would they do if a Negro were named to the post?

The whole proceeding is pretty shabby and makes us look like fools in the eyes of the world. Justice Fortas is a tough fellow, and I know he can take what's dished out without flinching. But I'm worried about the damage done to our system of government when a handful of vindictive people angry about Court decisions in favor of civil liberties so freely attack the Court as an institution.

Some of the same cranks who run around screaming "law and order" these days sport "Impeach Earl Warren" posters. And now they are lining up against Warren's successor.

When the history of our times is written, the Warren Court will be given its due as accomplishing tremendous advances for minorities and for the poor. Don't believe all you read about the Court's supposed "coddling" of criminals. All it has done is assure everyone of the right to a lawyer and the right to know he doesn't have to answer questions without legal advice. The Court didn't pull this out of thin air. These are Constitutional guarantees for which Americans have fought and died. All the Court did was to assure all citizens of the opportunity to exercise these rights, not just the rich who have lots of high-priced legal advice at their beck and call.

It's about time the irresponsible attacks on the Court and on Justice Fortas ended and Congress got back to the more important business of making laws that will end poverty and cure the sickness of the cities.

Negroes are still invisible from coast to coast

Since Ralph Ellison penned his notable "The Invisible Man" many years have staggered by the Negro Revolt, The Civil Rights Revolution and the rise of the advocates of Black Power have served to point out the plight of the sepa minority in the U.S.A. But nothing has happened to alter the central theme of Ellison's Book. In spite of the putative gains of the Civil Rights Revolution, the Negro is pitifully largely invisible.

The sounds coming from the black ghettos it is apparent that the Negro is here, and much of the effort of the controlling majority in recent months has been to quiet the sounds which disturb the peace of the status quo.

On his recent visit to the West Coast this observer was particularly alert to see Negroes in significant roles in America's great cities and towns as well as in transit. He was disappointed.

To start the trip it was necessary to leave from the Indianapolis Municipal Airport. There were the usual Negro Sky Caps and for one airline there was a Negro ticket seller. Once on the plane, the Negroes' traditional invisibility became apparent. The hostesses, the pilot and the other crew members were all white. There were six or seven black passengers out of one hundred twenty-five.

Arriving in the San Francisco Airport, the writer observed the usual Negro Sky Caps. The driver of airport limousine was white as was the driver of the cab which took the writer to his hotel.

The manager and all front personnel of the hotel were white. There were Negro maids and kitchen help, but no Negro waitresses. A night walk along the streets revealed very few Negroes either working or walking.

On a visit the next day to the Sheraton Palace Hotel where the basically Negro American Bridge Association was holding its annual tourney, hundreds of Negroes were to be seen, but most of them were the middle class members of the association who had come from all over the fifty states, few of them from the host city. The Negro employees of the hotel were not immediately visible for they held the invisible types of jobs usually reserved for them by arrogant white society.

The Grayline tours of the city taken the next day revealed no Negroes either as employees of the Grayline or as passengers on the particular tour. As the tour visited the various places of significant interest about the city, the invisibility of the Negro became ominous. The guide did point out the home of Willie Mays but no Negroes were seen in any significant role in any of the dozens of places visited.

A shopping tour the next day did reveal a few Negro salespersons in some of the larger retail emporia.

A trip by cable car to Fisherman's wharf was significant because the car taken and many of the other cable cars were operated by Negroes possibly because it is a job requiring muscle than any other ability.

The trip by Western Airlines from San Francisco to Los Angeles was another venture into black invisibility except for the Sky Caps at the Airport and a Negro ticket agent.

The airport experience at Los Angeles rather duplicated that at San Francisco. The hotel on fabulous Wilshire Boulevard was another mirror of the Negro's invisibility. In a four day stay at the hotel the observer noticed one Negro waiter and perhaps a dozen Negro guests. The bellhops were white as were those in Los Angeles although Negro maids were in evidence.

Several tours to places of note served to emphasize the invisibility of Negroes in positions of importance.

What was true at San Francisco and Los Angeles was no less true of Las Vegas. In those cities we have America in microcosm. The Negro has principally gained in the accessibility to places to spend his money; he has made no epoch-making progress in the ways he earns his money nor in his occupying position where he might be more visible. And there lies the germ of the black power struggle. It is a struggle to gain for the Negro the visibility which is accorded to other Americans regardless of their race, religion or national origin.

At close look at everyday America is enough to enrage even those Negroes who have profited by the rights revolt and who repudiate the philosophy of Black Power.

Sunday School Lesson

by REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, SR.

LARGER LESSON: Ezra 7-10, Romans 12:1-3; 1 Cor. 6:19-20.

LESSON PRINT: Ezra 7:6, 9-15, 10:10-12

Bible Truth: God Calls His People To separate from sin and be obedient to Him.

Lesson Aim: That Christians may Honor God and being true to His Commandments.

This Second of Ezra with priests and leaders to reestablish the people in their temple worship On the first return under Cyrus Ezra was 80 years younger but during those 80 years he had God's Book close by. The Book of Moses (Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy) close by. God loves hard workers and devoted students of His word and also he proves to be a man of Prayer. Hard work plus Bible Study plus Prayer to God together in the making of a great leader.

Therefore we shall think of our lesson as follows:

I-A Challenge to Consecrated Living Ezra 7:6

II-A Confession of Sin Ezra 9:10-15

III-A Call to Repentance Ezra 10:10-12

I-A Call To Consecrated Living

I was moved here the other day when a friend of mine with whom I often ride helped me into his cement truck and while he was unloading some blocks I picked up his Bible on the dash board and it was open. I commended him for it. He said often he had to wait for an unloading and he had often taken the three minutes or so to read and memorize a little of Gods Word. Here is Ezar's philosophy to hide Gods Word in his heart that he sin not with his tongue.

And note here another Persian King grants every request Ezra made because the hand of the Lord was upon the King Artaxerxes.

Second, his is called to observe that the princes and priests have given their daughters in marriage to the people who lived in the land the gentiles who worshipped Beal and Ashtarte (Beal a male idol, Ashtarte a female idol) and their worship was marked by sexual and social orgies which became the very center of their social life. This could not be with israel because the thought of every Jewish marriage and every Jewish Father that he might be the father of the Messiah and Redeemer of the world and this was the wedding Vision of every Jewish Mother. To enjoy free love as it might have been called would wreck the total Jewish hope and frustrate the grace of God. This Ezar's heart was disturbed and heavy and he is disturbed what God will do with this new running away.

II-A Confession of Sin

Ezra comes before God as a sinner for their sinfulness Ezra 9:10-15. And the people confessed their sins unto the Lord.

The words of Romans 12:1-3 invites us to present our very bodies as a living sacrifice which is our reasonable service, and to be not conformed to this world but to be transformed by the renewing of our mind that we may know what is that perfect will of God.

III-A Call To Repentance

So Come let us go back to God to the place where our Fathers Trod, Sin has marked the path we trod, O come let us go back to God.

Grievances aired by Reformatory inmate

To The Editor
Dear Sir, and Citizens of the State of Indiana

This is to bring to your immediate attention the suffering and humiliation the inmate body of the Indiana Reformatory endure.

The inmate population of the Indiana Reformatory after long awaiting action from the Correctional Department and institutional staff to correct the all too many ills and injustices that infest this reformatory which they have refused to do, we (the inmates) have decided to take action on our part to secure justice for our lost. The personnel of the entire Correctional Department has been "proven" themselves to be "only" concerned with trivial politics and the gaining of minute positions. The correctional department has a history of employing incompetents throughout its system. It has become necessary that we appeal to the general public and all concerned for "immediate aid." We have many times tried in vain to institute programs for our benefit, these excellent programs have been refused out of complete disregard and disrespect for our honorable intentions of upgrading ourselves and regaining our status as American citizens.

This "Reformatory" (strange) enough is totally without proper guidelines for its inmates. The institution breeds on tyrannical brute force. The institution is named by Arch-Racist who feed on punishment. The extensive disciplinary action taken upon inmates and tenfold on Blacks is appalling in any sense one views the situation. We as men and inmates fully realize the purpose we are confined, however, we know that it is the duty of this institution to prepare us for our return to society. We are also more than willing to atone for our mistakes but we do not wish to make our "whole" life a testament to those mistakes. Sure, we have relinquished our rights as a human being. In making man, God granted him the "right" to error.

In respect to society: it is not right nor fitting that we should be held totally responsible for violating the laws. We are viewed by you the public (in accordance with the presentation of us by officials) as animals who need to be constantly whipped, however, this is not a true picture. There are a number of men here who very much so desire to improve the institution and at the same time improve themselves.

We have been subtly denied the aid this institution represents. There are men here who are worthy of being helped; artist, musicians, writers and skilled tradesmen.

These men are not criminals for life, but only men who have made mistakes; allow them this, God does. We wish to reconstruct our life, but in doing so we "need" aid not punishment.

We ask you, the public to view our plight and see whether or not we deserve help. Our lives are constantly in danger. The Assistant Superintendent Mr. Paul Bailey, is a "racist" and "tyrant." He is a Living Riot. He is constantly perpetuating incidents that as a God all powerful. He has at present three (3) disciplinary courts "within" the institution. Segregation and prejudice is profusing throughout the institution. The mentality level of the officers is a plight within itself. The qualification for advancement among the officers (contrary to what the official may say) is that of favoritism. In short, it is a paradise for tyrants and imbeciles.

Maybe you wonder why we have not brought our situation to the attention of the Governor we have a number of times only to be referred to the office of the Commissioner and there we died.

The Commissioner, Mr. Anthony S. Kuharich has often made the infamous statement that, "I will not yield to inmates demands," not caring however whether or not the demands are just. Will he then still refuse to meet them because they are demands of inmates?

Why doesn't the "right" in the situation be considered? You can tell by a statement of this kind what kind of man heads the Department of Correction.

We ask you the public, to render us whatever aid is within your power. 'Tis a service that will not only be deeply appreciated but well rewarding.

We are protesting against injustices that are too lengthy to list here. We have drawn up a list of grievances and published them to you the public in hopes that we may receive support and aid from all of those who feel that we as men yet may live a useful life. We appreciate your fine attention and any consideration you give these matters. We remain,

Hopefully

Abortion continues as issue of protest

To The Editor:
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

Here, in the view of one citizen, are the results of the most important bill ever to come before the Indiana Legislature in the history of the state. The voting bill 1621, the abortion bill so wisely vetoed by Gov. Roger D. Branigan. Senators voting against abortion were:

Andrews of Tippecanoe... Brannan of Lake... Fanning of Clay... Sullivan, Vermillion, Vigo... R.W. Jones of Decatur, Fayette, Rush, Shelby... Kramer of Posey, Vanderburgh... LaMere of Lake... Landgrebe of Jasper, Newton, Porter... Lauck of Marion... Meheald of Marshall... St. Joseph... Nash of Tipton... Newlin of Morgan, Owen... Pittenger of Delaware, Randolph, Wells... Schmutzler of Daviess, Dubois... Martin, Spencer, Warrick... Stewart of Benton, Carroll, Pulaski, Starke, Warren, White... Taylor of LaPorte... Ullrich of Dearborn, Franklin, Jennings, Ohio, Ripley, Switzerland... Watson of Adams, Allen, Decatur... Representatives voting against were... Barkley of St. Joseph... Bays of Madison... Benerville of Clark, Jennings, Scott... Blanchly of Jasper, Porter, Pulaski... Boeshing of Tippecanoe... Eric of Lake... McComb of Allen... Mertz of Carroll, Cass, Miami... Pearson of Clark, Jennings, Scott... Sink of Allen. These legislators voted with the angels, they were true defenders of the "right to be born". There were a total of twenty nine who did not answer the roll call on this bill, the rest of the legislators voted against new human life, yet unborn. Willing that what has always been considered criminal abortion, now be made legal abortion.

Their actions, though well intended, constitutes their speaking in behalf of all of the people for generations to come, on a matter that is highly emotion packed, deeply religious question, and really unthinkable by most. Abortion was always at most, shameful, bad and clandestine.

Yet this bill if it had passed into law would have given some doctors (those who would have anything to do with it) the power of death as against saving life, thereby causing fear and distrust of all doctors. After all, how would we know which was which, all would enjoy the protection of the law as they did in Germany under Hitler.

I am not afraid of our doctors now, but if a new abortion law is written and becomes law, I know one thing, I will never feel safe completely flat on my back in a hospital again. Trust is a very important thing when one is sick and needs help, when one is expecting and needs to trust the doctors.

Mrs. William Rosner

(CFN) — A half a century ago, in Memphis, Tenn., a man advertised a rat trap for one dollar which was guaranteed to catch rats. According to the Purina Pet Care Center, the trap was remarkably efficient. It was a live cat.

Attitude of show's patrons disappointed

To The Editor:

At the Harry Belafonte Show recently I had the pleasure of sitting next to one of our community's most well-known Negro leaders. We talked at length before the show about education, motivating our students, and the "young generation" of which I am one.

And during the show we both exchanged comments on the times and so on. But when the Delores Hall Gospel Singers came on (very talented performers), nearly all of the whites in the audience were loudly chuckling and laughing at them—especially two white couples in front of us.

I was viewing it as a part of black culture of America not a comedy routine. This is a sacred thing to a lot of people and I saw nothing humorous about it.

It was really too much when the Negro man and his wife next to me joined in the laughter. They were laughing at a sacred part of all blacks. I leaned over and asked him "Is this really something to be laughed at?" Right away he straightened up and said "Why no, it is part of a beautiful culture." He laughed no more.

I also wanted to ask him "How will the whites ever come to respect Negro tradition if they see you laughing at it?" Where was his self-respect or was he no longer black since he is in a good position in the system?

As long as blacks have no self-respect, any idea of "equality" is indeed "a dream."

THEY BURIED Mrs. Ophelia Hoy last Saturday, and thus ended a wonderful career for a wonderful nite club performer. Ophelia came up the hard way, and made it to grand and glorious heights... Having appeared with such acts as Ethel Waters, Louis Armstrong and Wes Montgomery. She'll be missed by the thousands of patrons who enjoyed her songs at some of the city's top spots. So we say "30" to a friend... a mother... and gracious grandmother. (Note: story appeared on page 1, last week.)

THE AVENUE

NEWS IN BRIEF — We doff our hat to the Rev. Melvin Jerton for the fine work he is doing at his recently opened Community Center at Eugene and Rader, in the basement of his church. The fella was on TV Monday with his crew and a bunch of smiling youngsters engaged in many activities... including weight-lifting and pool. It is just what we have been preaching for in this column. Also a hearty salute to the Riverside Methodist Church for its program. Other churches should follow suit... and the membership should cooperate 100 per cent. If we can keep these youngsters off the street, we can lick part of this juvenile unrest. (What sayeth thou?)

TOO BAD our friend Wesley O. Jackson didn't follow thru with his idea for a boys club... this would be the ideal time... because, man, you sure can get these pretty green things, (ain't that the truth, brother?)

DIJA KNO that Spiro Agnew, governor of Maryland and a candidate for vice-president, sponsored the first statewide fair-housing bill enacted south of the Mason-Dixon line... and that, he brought Maryland's public accommodations statute into line with Federal law... and that, he helped repeal the century-old law against interracial marriages. (This is part of the record of your Democratic candidate for (you know what)... and he can't be all bad. (He's against lawlessness in the streets) whatever that means.

CAN'T be as bad as the ban-tam bogot from the red clay hills of Alabama... who is continually harping on law and order (never using the word — JUSTICE!) Where was his law and order when four little black girls were virtually slaughtered in a Birmingham church by white racists... and, pray tell me where was his law and order when Col. Penn was killed on the highway while returning from Army maneuvers in Tuskegee, enroute to his home in Washington, D.C. And how about William Moore, Jimmy Lee Jackson, Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, (white civil rights sympathizer), a white Unitarian minister, who was beaten to death because he wanted to march with blacks in Selma. But, believe it or not... this apostle of hate and racism will get some BLACK VOTES... and you had better believe it! WHEN WILL PHAROAH HEED?

TOO BAD WE DON'T RENT CONTROL — Far too many black are paying exorbitant rent ($$$ WISE). And somebody should look into this, pronto.

Negroes are paying higher rents (per month) for inferior housing than people (white) living in fine apts... WHY? WHY? WHY!!! (?)

TO THE PARENTS — Do you know where your children are (most of the time) and any idea what they're doing? People tell me they're raisin' wholly hell and destroying everything in their path when the notion strikes them. They're breaking windows in homes, churches, automobiles, insulting old and young, shootin' craps in the streets (or sidewalks) which ever you prefer, and daring oldsters to object. Are these your sons?... who raise hell in downtown stores and restaurants... play cards in ofay eateries and dare anybody to say they don't like it... who roam the streets looking for somebody to beat up. If these are your sons, you had better try and do something about it... because if you don't... it just might be later than you think, (and we ain't 'ust beatin' up our gums for the fun of it!) (dig?)

HERE TIS — The Small Business Administration has a program which will increase by 20,000 a year the number of urban businesses owned by minority groups. Titled "Project Own," the program is asking banks, industrial and community organizations to furnish funds, training and guidance for expanded urban business development.

GET PREPARED — What we need to do is get our people prepared for jobs in management, before we go off the hook with wild claims of unfairness by big business. You just don't go about making managers overnight to handle store management, especially in neighborhoods that are wild and woolly. It takes time to train people (black or white) for this responsibility. Why not open a school (with money from black folks) to train these people. Or do we have to beg Mr. Charlie (or as you say, Whitey) for this help also?

NOSTALGIA:

IF YOU CAN REMEMBER WHEN the Great Northern, Washington, Hortense and Jimmy Nick theaters were operating along the main stem... then you are older than you think. (smile) We forgot about the Columbia theater and Two-Johns.

MAYBE YOU remember when the Walker theater opened and the first families moved into Lockefield Gardens; when Jimmy Hill opened the Indiana theater in the 400 block... or when Dick Shaw's Rainbow was in full bloom... or when Fox Brown's Soodan Club, Joe Mitchell's Mitchell, Danny's Dreamland and the Cotton Club was in full bloom... How about Joker Young, Harry Goosey Lee, Pat Riley, Rube Page, George Graham, George A. Abrams, Denver Ferguson, Ruby Shelton, Henry Fleming, Herb Rouser... and the Hollywood Club in the 500 block... Chief Club in the 400 block, Defense Club (Jimmy Payne) in the 300 block, Raymond Dee's Paradise... The P & P Club... 440 Club, Brother, you are beginning to get old (believe me!) Don't forget the White City Cab and Tyler Bros. Cab companies.

And if you can remember Brutus Owen, Bob Parker, the Hole in the Wall and when Rag Alley (off Indiana in the 500 block) were poppin', brother you can talk about several presidents... Last but not least... how about the colorful Jackie P., the man who wore those fabulous togs and loved to pop (spend those little pretty green ones)... Don't forget the Flamingo Club with Tuffy Mitchell, Sonny Brown and Sonny Seebree... Gene Lamb and "Hobo," How about the Pyramid Club with Opal Tandy and Eugene Rhea or the Sportsman Club with Claude Dixon, Eddie Hammond and Emmett Rudolph... or Wm. Bebow's Club in the rear-in' 500 block... and for you old

Aretha Franklin sparks riot at concert

DENVER — Patrons at an outdoor amphitheater west of the city rioted Sunday evening after "Soul Sister No. 1" Aretha Franklin stopped the show in the middle of the program with an announcement that she could not go on singing because she had not been paid.

Police said that after Miss Franklin made her announcement, two thirds or the crowd of 3,000 left, but the remaining 1,000 began throwing bottles and rushing the stage.

The enraged "music lovers" who paid $6 a ticket to hear the Queen of Soul then began to set fire to seat cushions and stole the sound equipment before police could put down the rampage.

Three were arrested on suspicion of larceny. There were no injuries.

The number of veterans awaiting treatment at VA hospitals dropped by 1500 last year while VA treated a total of 750,000 — 9,000 more than the previous year — with the same number of beds.

Veterans currently hold more than 5 million VA-administered insurance policies with a face value of nearly $38 billion.

timers there was Archie Great-house and his popular saloon. THOSE WERE the good old days along the Avenoo... STREET that started as a pawnshop and ended at a hospital. NOW, they are trying to RE-VIVE the STREET... Can they do it? Methinks they can with your cooperation. Let's build Housing projects and bring Negro back downtown. There's Room-a-plenty along the stem... Why not Use It! DJIA HEAR about the big supermarket Negroes are planning to build in Detroit. People are buying a minimum of 100 shares for $100 or a maximum investment of $10,000. It will handle 6,000 items. It's located at 3745 Joy Rd. in Detroit. M. Stewart Thompson is president. (Just thought you might want to ask some questions before starting one here.) ...Because sooner or later there won't be ANY SUPERMARKETS IN BLACK NEIGHBORHOODS... and you had better believe it! We can buy Eldorado, Cadillac and other high price cars for ourselves and our pastors... surely to goodness you can buy several shares of stock in one or more supermarkets. And don't be surprised if they don't take Rockefeller and the Y.M.C.A. from you in order to accommodate the new Indiana University at Indianapolis, or if you prefer, the Indianapolis University. One thing sure... it's later than you black brothers think... it's now in the talking state. You keep talking Black Power and don't get some Green Power to do things for black people... and you'll find yourself in a heap on the east side and southside. And you can bet your store brought teeth on it! DJIA KNO THAT right now a MOVEMENT is on foot by an organization around 22nd and Talbot to keep a black man from opening a fine billiard hall at 22nd and Talbot. The new organization is dedicated to halting blight in the area and restore property values. The area is bounded by 16th, 22nd, Pennsylvania and Delaware. P.S. A Lady called me Tuesday and said she waited more than 30 minutes for a cab at the Northside Taxi stand on North St. It was in the afternoon... Now they want or have been awarded with 25 more licenses plus a hike in fare. When will the taxi commissioner sec'y to Safety Board get around to forcing these cab companies to give better service to people over on this side of the track... and are FORCED to ride Negro cabs. correctly, only Willie Mays, Ralph Kiner and Mickey Mantle ever hit more than 50 homers in one season. When you compare Maris to any array of talent like the aforementioned, then you must gain greater respect for his record.

Too many baseball fans have evaluated Roger Maris by the stories that they've read on the various sports pages. And I admit that most of the stories were not flattering to Roger's character. Because Roger was successful in breaking Babe Ruth's record, many writers took the attitude that Roger was now "public domain" and should always be willing and eager to accept their barrage of questions.

My hat is off to Roger Maris because he was man enough to keep the situation in its proper perspective. Roger recognized that he should be beholden to baseball and its fans, but at the same time he was aware of his duties as a husband and father.

All athletes have a certain amount of conceit and their egos are fed by the adulation given to them by the public. Roger was no exception and he took time out for interviews and personal appearances, however, whenever Roger did give an extended period of time, then Maris was labeled arrogant, uncooperative and unappreciative.

Unlike Mays and Mantle, Roger is an introvert and should be praised for wanting to spend as much time as possible with his family. I dare venture the opinion that if Roger had not been traded to a team that was close to his home, he would have retired from baseball at the end of the '66 season.

I'll always remember Roger Maris as a good ball player. Roger was proud, but not boastful; he loved his wife and children (he believed in the word 'family'); and he was wonderful to young children.

In 1962 while many fans and writers were "panning" Roger Maris, I remember Roger sitting in Yankee's dug out smiling and chatting with two 13-year-old boys (one black and one white). The 10 minutes that Roger devoted to those youngsters may not be remembered by him, but they were inspirational to youth who felt that life was one long weary road.

With renewed aspirations the boys returned to their home town and approached life and school with new hope and ambition. Today those of these young men are college students as a result of the motivation that they received from Roger Maris.

How do I know that the above incident is true? The two boys were two of my junior high students whom I had taken to Yankee Stadium. As a farewell gesture I would like to cite a player that best describes the creed of Roger Maris.

Yankee Stadium. As a farewell gesture I would like to cite a player that best describes the creed of Roger Maris.

"Teach me that sixty seconds make a minute, sixteen ounces a pound and one hundred cents a dollar. Help me to lie down at night with a clear conscience, unhaunted by faces of those to whom I may have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square and in earning it may do unto others as I would have do unto me. Bind me to the faults of other fellows and reveal

"Help me to be young enough to laugh with little children, yet mature enough to be considerate of old age. And when comes the day of darkening shades, make the ceremony short, make the epitaph simple. Here lies a man."

Caps to

The Caps, who open the regular CFL season at Omaha (Aug. 31) and Charleston (Sept. 7), still are searching for their first victory after losses to San Antonio (45-10) and Orlando (28-21) and they'll be favored to get it against the Hawks.

Behind Coach Bob Snyder's optimism is the anticipated improvement from week to week which was so obvious after last Saturday's show at Orlando. The Caps were three touchdowns underdogs to the club which is recognized as the nation's top minor league power. But they weren't out of contention until the final minute of play.

Aside from the almost-overnight jelling of the offensive and defensive units, biggest factors in the Caps' quick recovery from their opening setback at San Antonio were their aerial artists.

Quarterback Frank Stavroff, former IU great, and split end Joe Wynns, a slender 190-pounder from South Carolina State, picked Orlando's defensive apart.

Wynns hauled in nine passes for 195 yards and Stavroff authored seven of them, including touchdown strikes of 22 and 75 yards. For the evening, Stavroff had 13 completions in 19 attempts for 228 yards. He also threw a 7-yard touchdown to halfback Millard Fleming.

Relief pitcher Max Chobotan, taking over the offense with its back to the goal line, completed 5 of 14 tosses under heavy pressure.

Snyder and his staff were pleased with what they saw at Orlando. The defensive unit made the biggest improvement over the previous week, particularly at the linebacking spots. Still causing trouble is the offensive linebacking which needs to improve in order for the ground game to be effective.

Additional players are expected to join the Caps this week from Chicago and Detroit of the NFL after those two clubs make additional cuts.

Sunday's opponent also is scheduled to play here Oct. 26 during the regular campaign so the tune-up game will give both clubs a chance to look the other over closely.

The Hawks played last year in the Professional Football League of America which merged with the CFL for 1968. They lost to Joliet in the PFL's Eastern Division playoff.

Alabama is coached by Steve Susic, former assistant at Illinois and head coach at Bradley. He was defensive head coach for Toronto of the Canadian League in 1967 and coached at Richmond in the CFL two years ago.

Chamberlain to push Nixon's economic plan

MIAMI BEACH — Professional basketball great Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has announced plans to set up camp in the slums to help sell GOP Presidential Nominee Richard M. Nixon's "Black Capitalism" economic program.

The Los Angeles Lakers star said he would set up a telephone "hot line for complaints," and would try to obtain funds from the government and private industry for small business.

Aug. 14, 1953

J. Ernest Wilkins, appointed vice-chairman, Government contracts committee, under President Eisenhower's administration.

Unions plan new policy of training

WASHINGTON — A new program or policy was unveiled here recently by the head of the building trades section of the AFL-CIO, Neil Haggerty, involving a union plan to seek actively unskilled laborers. Such laborers will be trained for jobs on model cities' projects in the neighborhoods where the workers dwell. Following the new policy or program laborers with little or no construction work experience will be called upon along with the fully skilled.

Preference will be given to workers who are skilled and they will be paid the same scale as members of unions. But unskilled or semi-skilled workers will be placed in a training program which will lead to qualifying them as skilled workers. Otherwise local union leaders are not only to open their ranks to the unskilled workers, but are to go out and actively recruit workers from the neighborhoods where rehabilitation or new construction work is going on.

Seemingly the new policy forestalls Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz's threat of assigning integration quotas to various skilled unions. Herein the 17 main building trade union from carpenters and plumbers to marble polishers and stone cutters represent more than 3.8 million members. The new policy or program assures the building trades of open access to model cities jobs since the Demonstration Cities Act which governs the project requires that workers be recruited from the neighborhoods to be rebuilt. U.S. Labor Department statistics indicate that President Johnson's new housing program of 26,000,000 units during the next 10 years will require the building trades to increase their membership from 3.8 million to 4.5 million men — a gain of 700,000 workers.

The couple separated in Nov. 1967. Commenting on the separation Davis seemingly stated that "the separation is a combination of things. It is ridiculous to say May's decision had anything to do with Frank's (Sinatra) and Mia's (Farrow) troubles." She obtained a quick divorce earlier this year from Sinatra in Mexico.

Davis and Miss Britt both had been married before. He was married formerly to singer, Lory White and Miss Britt was married previously to Edwin V. Gregon a wealthy young Californian.

Davis stated that his "not being at home a great deal of the time, traveling around the world to fill performing dates, had a lot to do with it, but we hope we can work things out."

Davis told newsmen, at the time of their separation, "May told me she wanted a trial separation, and I must admit it comes as a big blow to me."

back to his residence and was unaware of the fact that James had gone back and resumed the argument, until a group of children rushed back to his home with the news that James has been shot."

Mr. Saunders hurried back to the Keystone address where he found James lying mortally wounded on the sidewalk in front of 1817 and 1819 S. Keystone.

Witnesses told the investigating officers that the alleged assailant's name was "Red" Long. Police entered the residence at 1817 S. Keystone where they arrested Robert "Red" Long for the murder, a .16 gauge shotgun, believed to have been the murder weapon, was recovered in the kitchen of the house.

Long was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Room 4 Thursday afternoon.

JOHN HUGHES
Services for John Hughes, 31, 2625 N. Delaware, who died August 15 at General Hospital were held August 21 at Stuart Mortuary, with burial in New Crown Cemetery.

Born at Texarkana, Texas, Mr. Hughes had lived in Indianapolis 25 years. He was a retired night watchman, having worked at the Meridian Hill Country Club for over 20 years. Mr. Hughes was a member of the Mount Moriah Baptist Church and the Knights of Pythian.

Survivors include three sons, Odell Hughes, James Hughes, city, and Maurice Hughes, Houston, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Patrice James, city; 14 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The invaders returned to the convention later, and Young apologized "for losing my temper." Spokesmen for the invaders said they accepted Young's apology.

Inside the amphitheatre, delegates are divided in several ways.

First, there is the division over candidacies. As if it were not enough that the Democratic "establishment" candidate Hubert H. Humphrey was pitted against anti-establishment candidate Eugene McCarthy, Gov. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, added an even further discordant note by announcing his candidacy for the nomination.

And, to top it off, Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox has joined the feuding crowd by throwing his hat into the Presidential ring.

While McGovern is liberal on race and on Viet Nam, Maddox - remembered for his opposition to integration of his Atlanta eatery - is just the opposite. He's likely to pick up a lot of support from Southern Democrats.

Then there's the dispute over convention seating. In several Southern states, and in some Northern ones as well, it is charged that black people are underrepresented in state delegations to the convention.

This is expected to set off some fireworks, including walkouts, challenges of credentials, and possible disorders.

And black delegates will not pass by their opportunity to demand greater power in the party.

Just as there are liberal and conservative factions in the party, a black caucus is expected to throw its weight around.

Other trouble at the convention is likely to be sparked by a dispute over the "open convention" issue. McCarthy's backers want delegates to be free to vote for the candidate of their choice, regardless of orders from state party bosses or the state delegation's decision.

In addition to the disorders inside the convention, there is one threat of turbulence outside it. To meet that threat, National Guardsmen have been called in, and the area around the amphitheatre has been cordoned off.

But even so, demonstrations by peace-lovers could erupt in violence during the convention. Both inside and outside the amphitheatre, the "establishment" and the "anti-establishment" will be challenging one another.

The result is likely to be the same discord experienced in the Republican camp - only more so.

of the meetings he has been holding at the Mission Bay resort. Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers star who is supporting Nixon for the presidency, said, "There definitely is a communications gap."

He said the only way to bridge the gap to have another meeting with Nixon and Agnew, Dr. Glenn Olds, former Springfield College President who headed the group indicated such a meeting would be held.

Olds, who is white, said "the meeting would seem to be the appropriate next step." He said, "I think Mr. Nixon and Mr. Agnew are sincere in their desire" to help the black community and "I think they will be responsive and responsible."

In other words, the Negro riots have shaken up educators to the point at which they appear to realize, along with Dr. McStallworth, that "We simply must know and understand what has happened in American in order to adjust our attitudes and behavior to cope with the problem."

McStallworth said he has consulted with educators and industrialists in Dayton, Xenia, Yellow Springs, Wilmington, Springfield and Cincinnati on Negro history lectures or assistance in curriculum development.

"At first there was great anxiety to introduce the materials particularly to the black child," McStallworth said. "The notion was that this information would improve the child's self-image and fortify him - for the abrasions he will sustain - by showing that his people were significant doers and shakers in American history."

But now "Many persons realize that the trouble is as much with white attitudes as with black attitudes," Dr. McStallworth added. "People in high places have begun to understand that the white man's attitudes toward the black man have been conditioned by historical misconceptions and distorted views of reality. A cultural deprivation exists..."

McStallworth quoted on June 11 Time magazine story indicating that one of the fastest-growing new academic specialties in United States universities is "Negro culture": "the nation's colleges are rushing to add courses in Negro history, literature, anthropology, music and art."

The sociology department of nearby Ohio State University this fall will offer a three-hour course called "Black America and White Racism." Central State University historians include the Negro's past in all Lewallen said the board would mail letters to the 204 teachers involved informing them that their transfers were ineffective.

A total of 71 schools, including two high schools, Northwest and all-Negro Crispus Attucks, were involved in the court order handed down last month by Federal Judge S. Hugh Dillin as the result of a suit filed by the U.S. Justice Department.

It was reported this week that the volunteer program was coming along very well and that a report to the board Monday should be favorable.

relevant history courses, Dayton University offers six African and American Negro history courses, and Wright State University will begin Negro history courses in September.

McStallworth said all schools should meet three requirements in introducing black culture courses:

Adequate space and treatment of the roles of minority groups in American culture.

Accurate portrayal of the roles of minority groups and leaders in historical events.
